Baiting Birds Is Still Illegal

TALLAHASSEE — Attracting fresh water fish by baiting or luring is perfectly legitimate in Florida waters, but don't try the same for game birds or animals as the practice is illegal, according to A. D. Aldrich, director, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

"Under certain conditions attracting fish through baiting can make the difference between an ordinary day's outing and a successful fishing trip. Actually baiting fish is as old as the hills but it is surprising how many fishermen are not familiar with the process. While many of the old baiting methods are still in use, the practice has taken on a modern look with some of the new commercial fish foods," Aldrich said.

Attracting fish follows two general methods. The first of which is to provide suitable habitat to attract minnows and small fish which in turn attract larger fish. In bodies of water with limited plant growth, the construction of brush piles has proven to be an aid to attracting fish with direct benefits to the fishermen.

The second system of attracting fish is by actual feeding. This baiting is usually with cottonseed meal, soy bean meal, or with a commercial fish food. While this feeding method attracts minnows and small fish, the food value of the bait also attracts some of the larger panfish and catfish.

Fish do have a tendency to congregate as a source of free food and many fishermen maintain several baited hot-spots for the days when the fish don't bite. Caution should be used in placing too much food so as not to place too much in one location, otherwise the food will sour before the fish have an opportunity to use it.

FSU President To Head Furman Univ.

An "unhealthy climate for educational progress" was blamed by Secretary of State Tom Adams for the resignation of Florida State University President Gordon Blackwell.

Blackwell announced his resignation to accept the presidency of Furman University in Greenville, S. C. effective Feb. 1.

There was an immediate speculation scramble about the successor to Dr. Blackwell at FSU. At least one cabinet member gave his quick support to a planted rumor that Gov. Farris Bryant might get the job. Bryant's term as governor ends in January.

Adams also skirted on the fringes of one of Dr. Blackwell's major problems during his nearly four years at FSU when the secretary said there needed to be a reorganization of the university system with less interference from the outside.

Adams, however, proposes as a part of the answer the establishment of another set of supervising boards—a group of trustees for each university.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Holt are spending a three week vacation in the mountains of North Carolina.

4-H Clubbers Make Meal Menu At Home

Imagine not having to worry about what to buy at the grocery or what to serve for the next meal!

While they may not be completely without problems, nearly 100,000 4-H Club members can plan nutritious meals made from foods stored right in their own homes all year round.

These young cooks participate in the national 4-H Food Preservation awards program sponsored by the Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corporation, which for 36 straight years has supported 4-H.

This year in cooperation with the Extension Service, the program is broadened to include the freezing as well as canning of foods. Special emphasis is placed on nutrition, particularly the importance of fruits and vegetables. The 4-H'ers learn to plan for family needs which involve canning, freezing and pickling millions of jars and packages of food annually. They tell of the convenience of having a variety of food available in the freezer or on the pantry shelf. Substantial savings are reported by preserving quantities of fruits and vegetables in season to be enjoyed through winter months.

Members who satisfactorily complete a food preservation project are eligible for awards provided by Kerr.

This fall state winners from coast to coast will be treated to an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago. Six state champions will be selected for national honors and $500 college scholarships.

Outstanding county participants receive gold-filled 4-H medals recognizing their achievements. Last year some 5,700 club members won a medal for work in the food preservation program, according to the National 4-H Service Committee.

The Canal Point Baptist Church will begin their Bible School with preparation day on Friday and continue through Friday, August 28, from 8:30 till 11:30 a. m. for girls and boys age 3 thru 13. A Career Workshop will be held each evening during this period for Intermediate and Young People beginning at 7 p. m. thru 10 p. m.

One-Third Of Fla. City Employees On Payrolls Of 4 Cities

Some 43 thousand Floridians work for the State's 366 municipal governments and their monthly payrolls total $14 million, according to a report on public employment as of October 1962 published by the U. S. Commerce Department's Bureau of the Census.

Marion A. Leonard, Director of the Department's Field Office in Miami says that the 1960 U. S. census counted almost 3 million people, or almost three-fifths of Florida's inhabitants, living in these 366 communities. Four of the most populous cities, Miami (291,688), Jacksonville (201,030), Tampa (274,970), and St. Petersburg (181,298), accounted for 25 percent of the State's urban population. In October 1962, they accounted for 36 percent of the employment and 41 percent of the payrolls of the entire 366 municipal governments. At the other end of the population scale, 222 cities each with 2,500 or less inhabitants, accounted for 6 percent of the 1960 urban population, and for 4 percent of the employment and 2 percent of the payrolls in October 1962.

Together, Miami, Jacksonville, Tampa and St. Petersburg, employed 15,214 persons full time and 487 part time, or 15,392 full-time equivalent employees; while the 222 small city governments had 1,141 full-time equivalent employees.

Florida Tobacco Brings Good Price

Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner said this year's tobacco crop was high in quality and the sales were good.

Speaking before a tobacco luncheon group, including some 100 tobacco growers and chamber of commerce members from Duval and Columbia counties, Conner said the season appeared bright despite adverse weather conditions which plagued the crop earlier.

Conner toured the tobacco market openings in Madison, Jasper, Live Oak and Lake City. His schedule included visits to markets in the High Springs area.

Conner said although the yield for this year's crop of type 14 flue-cured tobacco was not as high as last year, market managers reported a better quality crop.

Conner said 12,700 acres of tobacco were planted this year compared with 14,000 last year.

This reduction in acreage reflected 10 per cent cut in acreage allotment by the U. S. Department of Agriculture earlier this year, he said.

Conner said a total tobacco production of some 26.3 million pounds was expected this year compared with 25.8 million pounds last year.

At opening sales best quality lots sold for 65 to 70 cents a pound. Conner auctioned one lot for 77 cents.

Flue-cured tobacco production accounts for more than $14 million annually for Florida, Conner said.

William Plumer, Jr. Completes Course

MYRTLE BEACH, S. C.—Cadet William S. Plumer, Jr., of Pahokee, recently completed the U. S. Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps (AFROTC) summer encampment at Myrtle Beach AFB, S. C.

Cadet Plumer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Plumer, Sr., of Pahokee, observed and took an active part in flying and support phases of operations at the Tactical Air Command base during the month-long encampment period.

A member of the AFROTC unit at Duke University, he will be eligible for a commission as an Air Force second lieutenant upon completion of AFROTC training and graduation from college.

The cadet is a graduate of Asheville, (N. C.) School for Boys.

Social Security To Be Boosted 5 Pct.

WASHINGTON — The House passed legislation that would give a 5 per cent raise to the 20 million retired or disabled workers, widows and children who receive social security payments.

A 338-8 roll call vote sent the bill to the Senate.

If the Senate approves the measure, the additional benefits estimated to total $925 million annually will begin flowing two months after a bill is signed.

To pay for them, an increase in social security payroll taxes, initially a hike of as much as $31.20 a year each for employers and employees, would go into effect Jan. 1.

However, some senators plan to try to write into the bill a version of the health plan for the aged favored by President Johnson. Such a move, if successful, could lead to a Senate-House fight with unpredictable results in the final weeks of the congressional session.

Besides raising benefits, the legislation would add present and future beneficiaries to the social security system which now covers nearly all Americans privately employed.

The largest group would consist of persons now in their 70s or older who had paid, or whose breadwinners had paid, some social security tax during working years but not enough under present rules to qualify for retirement. The bill would provide a new minimum payment of $35 a month under liberalized rules estimated to make 600,000 persons, mostly women eligible.

In addition, the coverage afforded children of deceased workers would be extended beyond the present (Continued on Page 8)

Marine W. M. Johnson Jr. Gets Promotion

ALAMEDA, CALIF. (FHTNC)—Marine Lance Corporal William M. Johnson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Johnson, Sr., of Pahokee, was promoted to his present rank on July 1.

He is serving as a member of the guard at Marine Barracks, Naval Air Station, Alameda, Calif.

A graduate of Pahokee High School, Corporal Johnson entered the Marines in July, 1962.

Membership Is Up For 4-H Youth Work

4-H goes to town!

The national leadership program for 4-H youth development which began primarily in rural areas now reports a majority of its members live in urban or suburban neighborhoods. According to the National 4-H Service Committee, 52 per cent of 4-H members are from non-farm locations.

Aiding in the spread of 4-H from farm to city have been junior leaders, experienced 4-Hers who assume responsibilities for helping others. The program, sponsored by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation, is an activity easily adapted to either city or rural living.

Recognition awards for superior achievement will be claimed this year by scores of 4-H'ers throughout the state. They consist of gold-filled medals, an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress and an opportunity to compete for one of 12 national leadership scholarships of $500 each.

Participants make definite plans to help others in choosing projects, fulfilling requirements and completing records. This results in growth and development of the teen-age leaders as well as expansion of the club program.

Junior leaders find they "must continually be alert and ready to go with new ideas," as one state winner put it. Working with those who are learning by example provides a challenge to set an acceptable pattern.

Moving into urban areas has caused new projects and activities to be developed. Junior leaders were able to voice their needs so that new programs could be more easily tailored to their situations.

And leaders find it's fun to help, too. "Ever since I can remember," says another state winner, "it has been my ambition to be above average in helping other."

County extension agents and local 4-H leaders can provide more information about the program.

Tax Cut Is Coming By Flood Control

A 25 percent tax cut has been ordered this year by the Governing Board of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District.

More than two million residents in the 18 counties of the FCD will benefit from the new resolution which reduces the FCD levy from one mill to 3-4 of a mill per dollar of county property assessments.

The action was taken Friday in a special meeting of the FCD Board called on an emergency basis because the final District millage must be certified to the tax collectors of the 18 counties by January 28.

Riley S. Miles of Kissimmee, FCD Board Chairman, explained that the action was taken to give relief to Dade County taxpayers in view of the recent state supreme court ruling which has required a reassessment of property values in Dade County.

The motion to reduce FCD taxes was made by Robert L. Searle of Coral Gables and seconded by R. R. (Jack) Horner of Palm Beach. (Continued on page 4)

Outlook Is Good For Season Hunting

TALLAHASSEE — The outlook for a successful 1964-65 hunting season is good. The status of Florida's game birds and animals at mid-summer may be classified as healthy and robust, however, nature holds the key that will determine if Florida wildlife passes a complete fall physical.

According to A. D. Aldrich, director, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, it is difficult to make an accurate forecast at this time as much wildlife data remains to be gathered and many unforeseen factors may slip into the game. With favorable weather and suitable habitat, wildlife will generally replenish its own and the hunter may look for a good harvest.

Deer: More numerous than ever and apparently thriving throughout the State. Several areas report that deer are becoming a problem, and other previously closed areas will be open to deer hunting for the first time.

Turkey: A good hatch in most sections and if the young poult are not damaged by adverse weather, the wild turkey will again be a prime target for the sportsmen.

Quail: Generally plentiful with successful early and mid-summer hatches. Success of late hatches will probably make the difference between a high or average harvest.

Squirrel: The mid-summer status is good, the full population will depend on the condition of the acorn and other mast crops. With suitable hardwood areas the squirrel can be expected to hold its own under most conditions.

Dove: A slight overall nationwide increase which is reflected in the two bird increase in the daily bag limit.

Duck: A small increase in the breeding population may offset spotty breeding conditions. The fall flight will depend on the summer rains maintaining water levels in areas where the level was low.

Rail: Marsh hen population is good except for the sora rail which shows considerable decline. Gallinule seem to have had a successful hatch and may be found on most Florida lakes.

"It now looks like another good season," Aldrich said. "But as every hunter knows, this is a critical time and a great deal depends on weather conditions from now until fall. We just never know until the summer is over and the hurricane season is past."

Sleeping Sickness In Minus Quantity

JACKSONVILLE — The State Board of Health said today that neither in 1963 nor so far this year has there been any evidence of St. Louis encephalitis virus infection in man, animals or mosquitoes in four Tampa Bay counties which experienced a serious outbreak in 1962.

Dr. James O. Bond, director of the Encephalitis Research Center in Tampa, said two positive blood tests on wild birds suggested recent infection with this virus but that apart from this, the findings of many examinations indicated that the four-county area—Hillsborough, Pinellas, Sarasota and Manatee—is free of the virus which caused some 200 cases in 1962. Dr. Eugene G. Peek, president of the board, expressed great satisfaction with the evidence on the freedom in this area from St. Louis virus.

However, another mosquito-borne virus, that of Eastern Equine encephalitis, has been found in the state. This infection makes its appearance virtually every year causing encephalitis in horses, a disease commonly known as blind staggers.

This Eastern Equine virus has been isolated this year from horses, mosquitoes and birds. Fortunately, the mosquito transmitting it is rarely found except in natural swamplands.

Four suspected human cases—one each in Jefferson, Putnam, Hillsborough and Polk counties—are now under study in laboratories of the board in Jacksonville.

In preceding years, only seven human cases of this infection have been identified in Florida, all scattered widely in time and place.

Dr. Wilson T. Sowder, state health officer, said an official report will be made on completion of the laboratory tests on these cases.

"The seriousness of these rare human infections is recognized," Dr. Sowder said. "All persons living in rural areas, particularly near swampland, should protect themselves as adequately as possible. Avoidance of mosquito-infested wet, swampy areas and use of mosquito repellent if working in such regions is highly recommended."

Contributions Are Coming For Terrell Scholarship Fund

TALLAHASSEE — The Florida Bar announced that contributions totaling $1941.00 have been received for the Glenn Terrell Scholarship Fund of The Florida Bar Foundation.

The scholarship fund was established two years ago on August 2, 1962, as a tribute to the late justice of the Florida Supreme Court.

At the time of Justice Terrell's death in January, 1964, he was working with a special committee of the Florida Bar on details of administering the scholarship fund. Bar president Chesterfield H. Smith, Lakeland, recently appointed the justice's widow, Mrs. Glenn Terrell, to fill the vacancy on the scholarship committee. Other members of the committee are Richard T. Earle, Jr., St. Petersburg, and Marshall R. Cassidy, Tallahassee.

No Scholarships have been awarded from the fund but several applications have been received for study by the committee.

Tax Cut Is Coming —

FCD Vice Chairman. It is estimated that Dade property values have been more than doubled from the 1963 total of $2.3 billion to a new total of $5,386,000,000 (before equalization of the new roll). "The reassessment in 'Dade County," Searle said, "would allow us to collect a much larger sum of money than we have budgeted this year if we did not adjust our millage." He noted that the FCD Board is "only interested in receiving the same amount of money as we would have prior to this reassessment in Dade County."

The fact that Dade County's assessed values have been hiked some $3 billion this year would mean that the FCD would collect about $3 million more than was budgeted in May when the FCD levy was set at the one mill legal maximum.

The District's budget calls for net tax collections of $6,060,000 this year. Ed Dail, FCD Executive Director, told the Board that the reduced 3-4 of a mill levy should still produce the needed $6,060,000 because of the much larger Dade County roll.

While Dade County taxpayers will save over $3 million this year because of the tax slash, they will still pay about $1.7 million more than in 1963 when Dade properties were assessed at less than 50 percent of just value.

The FCD tax cut will mean savings in 17 other counties this year: estimated at: Brevard, $99,000; Broward, $414,000; Glades, $1,450; Hendry, $3,240; Highlands, $4,031; Indian River, $21,700; Lee, $24,000; Martin, $30,600; Monroe, $185; Okeechobee, $2,980; Orange, $36,875; Osceola, $33,000; Palm Beach $272,940; Polk, $4,200; St. Lucie $49,689; Seminole, $1,750; Volusia $108.

Chairman Miles said he hoped that the Dade County reassessment "is a trend that will continue throughout the state" resulting in true or just valuation on an equalized basis in all counties. He expressed the hope that such broadening of this tax basis in Florida counties could result in an improved educational system statewide.

Earlier in July at the regular FCD Board meeting in West Palm Beach, Searle had commented, "It is impossible because of the statute to adjust the Flood Control District millage separately in one county over another. . . . It is important that the next session of the Legislature take into consideration what has happened and have some more equitable method of assessing the District than we now have. This present assessment, of course, creates a hardship in one county against another. . . . This points out the need for having a better basis of assessment."

Searle was referring to the law which requires the Flood Control District to levy a uniform ad valorem tax at the same millage in every county regardless of the varying levels of property assessments in the separate counties.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to speak out for freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today Americans speak out for freedom many ways—in Congress, in local government, in neighborhood activities. Some speak out for freedom in other languages, in other lands. And millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Perhaps you don't speak out for freedom in the same tone of voice when you buy a Bond as Patrick Henry did in his famous speech. But you speak every bit as surely. And every bit as proudly.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

 Lessons on names which belong to God, the subject at Christian Sci-

 "Soul."
 The Bible readings will include this verse from Psalms: "Give un-name; worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness."

 Related readings from the Christian Science textbook will include these lines: "Immortality, exempt from age or decay, has a glory of its own—the radiance of Soul...
 Beauty is a thing of life, which dwells forever in the eternal Mind and reflects the charms of His

Spawning Ground Of Blue Marlin Is Sought By U Of Miami

MIAMI — A group of scientists from the Institute of Marine Sciences of the University of Miami are searching the tropical Atlantic for the spawning grounds of the blue marlin.
 Operating from the institute's research vessel John Elliott Pillsbury, the biologists will work in the Gulf Stream and northeast into the Sargasso Sea surrounding Bermuda. Samples of the planktonic and other marine life will be taken from depths as far as two miles or more.
 Specimens will also be captured by night-lighting, using a submerged light to attract organisms which are dipped out in nets.
 The billfish research, part of a long-range study of the distribution, migration and growth stages of marlin and sailfish, involves a search for eggs, larvae and juvenile fishes. Some 10 Miami biologists are on the cruise in addition to the regular crew of the Pillsbury.

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to $2\frac{1}{2}\%$ for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra $\frac{1}{2}\%$ from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic $1\frac{1}{2}\%$ increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

ent 18-year cutoff age for young people continuing their education. They would continue to receive payments while in school or college up to age 22. It was estimated this change would add 275,000 to the rolls and result in $175 million a year payments.

Another change would extend social security coverage to 170,000 doctors of medicine and in terms, described as the last large occupational group not covered.

Some groups of firemen and policemen also would be authorized to join the system, if they and their municipalities approved.

The new benefit scales provided by the bill would range from $42 to $133.40 for a single worker, up to $281.20 for a family including dependent children. Ultimately, as enough time passed for workers to acquire maximum coverage at the new rates, the maximums would reach $143.40 for a worker, $300 for a family.

The present scale of taxes, due to increase periodically under present law, would be stepped up and also made to apply to the first $5,400, instead of $4,800, of an employee's pay.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

Each of the seven denominations of Series E Savings Bonds shows a different President of the United States. If you're interested in this kind of art, the seven make a nice collection.

Along with the hobby, Savings Bonds offer such extras as riskless investing, 3 1/4% more money at maturity, and financial freedom for your future.

But there are other kinds of freedom tied in with your purchase of Savings Bonds. Freedom to speak your piece, choose your job, and own your property, to name a few. Every Bond you buy helps our government further the cause of freedom everywhere in the world today.

Why not start collecting U. S. Savings Bonds now? Only $18.75 each for the George Washington variety, at your bank or on Pay-roll Savings where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with

Luxury Appliance May Add To Cost Of Household

Before you buy that deluxe appliance that catches your eye, consider the extra work involved in using it.

Home economics specialists with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service suggest that before you make your decision figure how much more the luxury features will add to the cost. How often will you use these special features? What could you buy with the money saved on the extra gadgets?

Certain basic features will do an adequate job, no matter what appliances you buy. These include an automatic defrosting refrigerator or an automatic oven-timer.

Many of the added features really won't make your work simpler. For example, double ovens and rotisserie attachments are extras that can result in more work for you. They will raise the price of the appliance, and when something goes wrong with the appliance, there's more to repair.

Study the various models and their price tags. Then choose the one that best fits your budget and needs.
